MENDOCINO NOW REPUBLICAN COUNTY

Mendocino county has gone Republican by an average of just 700 majority, outside of the head of the ticket. The state ticket averaged 722 majority in the county, while the district ticket has averaged 679, making the average Republican majority in the county of 700.

Despite the fact that the county has gone Republican by 700 majority the Democrats have captured over half of the county offices among which are the best offices on the list. The party is to be congratulated upon this grand victory. In local affairs the Democratic candidates have proven to be strong favorites. Some were defeated, but only two ran behind the average party vote.

The successful ones had the following majorities and ran ahead of their ticket as follows:

Sanford lost county by 96 votes, but ran 604 ahead of his party ticket.

Donohoe carried the county by 439 and ran ahead of his ticket 1139.

Duncan carried county by 1302 and ran ahead of the ticket 2002.

Thomas carried county by 111 and ran ahead of ticket 811.

Taylor carried county by 512 and ran ahead of ticket 1212.

Redwine carried county by 227 and ran ahead of ticket 927.

Wright, Carothers, Joyce and Gibson although defeated ran ahead of their ticket.

So if the Republicans can figure out a victory out of the above they are certainly easily satisfied, and their wants are few.

Horticultural Commissioners

The board of supervisors has appointed the following as a board of horticultural commissioners for Mendocino county: A. H. Smith, L. W. Babcock and W. F. Wilcox. The positions carry no salary.

Senator Sanford Ran Far Ahead of His Tick[et]

BUD SMITH IS TO BE DEPUTY

Emmet Donohoe, sheriff-elect, has decided to give the position of under sheriff to H. B. Smith. He certainly could not have picked upon a more competent or popular official than Mr. Smith, who has been identified with court house work for many years and knows in detail the work of the office. This appointment is a sufficient guarantee that Emmet is going to make a model sheriff. He can depend upon the inside work being done to perfection and with the greatest dispatch. Mr. Donohoe will attend to the outside work himself, and of course everything will go all right in the sheriff's office for the next four years. Both Messrs. Smith and Donohoe are to be congratulated.

In New Quarters

J. W. Preston has moved his law office from the old law building into the Hart building near the corner of School and Standley streets. The room was formerly occupied by George Higgins as a grocery store. Mr. Preston had a partition put in and another door and window, which makes the place a model office. In fact it is the best apportioned office in town and J. W. can be congratulated upon securing the location. The Ukiah Guarantee Abstract company has also been moved into the White building next door, and H. L. Preston and Charles G. Halliday will hold forth there and attend to the wants of those wanting records searched or abstracts made.

The vote for state senator in [the] 4th District is as follows:

	Sanford	Hamm[ond]
Colusa	1002	[illegible]
Glenn	743	[illegible]
Lake	753	[illegible]
Mendocino	2107	2[illegible]
Total,	4607	3[illegible]

Sanford's majority 853.

The senatorial district gave H[ammo]nd's brother-in-law, Presi[dent] Roosevelt, over 1400 majority [in] 1904. Senator Sanford ran ahead [of] his average party ticket in every [county] of the four counties. Mendocino [has] given the Republican state tic[ket] outside of governor, even 700 ma[jori]ty, but Bell lost it by only 86 vo[tes]. Senator Sanford polled 79 more v[otes] than Bell, losing the county by o[nly] 96 votes, thereby running 60 v[otes] ahead of the average party tic[ket] comparatively speaking.

In the five precincts in U[kiah] valley Mr. Sanford received 173 [ma]jority, exceeding Bell's majority [by] 34, and running 75 votes ahead [of] the average Democratic vote.

Bell has made a remarkable [run] and has run 50,000 votes ahead [of] his ticket throughout the state, [and] the candidates that kept pace [with] him are certainly making a credit[able] showing.

Mr. Sanford carried Lake co[unty] by 183 majority, which is aver[aging] from 75 to 100 Democratic [votes]. Sanford also carried Mr. Hamm[ond's] home town, Upper Lake, a Repu[blic]can precinct, by 41 majority.

So if the jealous contemporary [ed]tors can get any consolation o[ut of] this they are certainly entitled [to] they can get, especially as Mr. [San]ford made no canvass for him [in] Mendocino county.

DEATH BY A BOMB.

Imaginary Incident of the Crimean War by Tolstoi.

The following imaginary incident of the Crimean war is found in Count Tolstoi's "Sevastopol:" "The bomb, coming faster and faster and nearer and nearer, so that the sparks of its fuse were already visible, descended. 'Lie down!' some one shouted. They lay flat on the ground. Praskouhin, closing his eyes, heard only the bomb crashing down on the hard earth close by. A second passed, which seemed an hour. The bomb had not exploded. He opened his eyes and at that moment caught a sight of the glowing fuse of the bomb not a yard off. Terror, cold terror, excluding every other thought and feeling, seized his whole being. He covered his face with his hands.

"Then he remembered the 12 rubles he owed, a debt in St. Petersburg that should have been paid long ago and the gypsy song he had sung that evening. The woman he loved rose in his imagination, wearing a cap with lilac ribbons, and yet, inseparable from all these and from thousands of other recollections, the present thought, the expectation of death, did not leave him for a moment. 'Perhaps it won't explode,' and with desperate final decision he wished to open his eyes, but at that instant a red flame pierced through the still closed lids, and, with a terrible crash, something struck him in the middle of the chest.

"He jumped up and began to run, but, stumbling over the saber that got between his legs, fell on his side. 'Thank God, I'm only bruised,' was his first thought, and he wished to touch his chest with his hand, but his arms seemed tied to his sides, and it felt as if a vise were squeezing his head. Soldiers flitted past him, and he counted them unconsciously. Then lightning flashed before his eyes, and he wondered whether the shot were fired from a mortar or cannon. Cannon, probably, and here are more soldiers—five, six, seven soldiers. They all pass by.' He was suddenly filled with fear that they would crush him. He wished to shout that he was hurt, but his mouth was so dry that his tongue clove to the roof of his mouth.

"He felt it wet about his chest, and this sensation of being wet made him think of water. Fearing lest the soldiers might trample on him, he tried to shout 'Take care with you,' but instead of that he uttered such a terrible groan that he was frightened to hear it. Then other red fires began dancing before his eyes, and it seemed to him that the soldiers put stones on him. He made an effort to push off the stones, stretched himself, and saw and heard and felt nothing more. He had been killed on the spot by a bomb splinter in the middle of his chest."

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

A sick man talks about everything except death.

No man is big enough to laugh at a real misery.

While looking a man usually thinks about a big volume but don't work.

An apology never gives satisfaction to but one person—the one who makes it.

If you must kick, make it swift and sure, and do not prolong the agony by making excuses.

A boy thinks, "What a good time a man has!" And a man thinks, "What a good time a boy has!" And what a poor time both have!

It may be as good a feat to have all of a little girl's petticoats the same length as it is to have everything that goes on the stove cooked at the same time.—Atchison Globe.

In a Mexican Hat Store.

Half a million straw hats is no uncommon sight to be met with at one time in the hat stores of Mexico. The hats are made of a long pampas grass which grows nowhere else in the world. It is specially cultivated for the hat industry. So rapidly are the hats made that some skilled workmen can turn out ten or a dozen a day, and they are then sent to all parts of the world. They cost about fourpence each to make, are retailed at from 1 shilling sixpence to 4 shillings and are so durable that it not infrequently happens that those of an economical turn of mind make a single hat last ten years. —London Queen.

Chesapeake Bay.

Few people fully appreciate the great size of the Chesapeake bay. It is the largest indentation on the Atlantic coast, and it has often been called the Mediterranean of America. In its bosom the navies of the world could easily float. It is 200 miles long and in some places it is forty miles broad. It has an area of over 2,000 square miles, and it shoots off into great rivers with an aggregate length of thousands of miles.—Baltimore American.

The Latest.

Customer—You say, then, that this material is the latest? Shopman—The very latest, madam. Customer—But will it fade in the sun? Shopman—Why, it has been lying in the window for two years, and look how well it has stood.—London Mail.

The Spanish Main.

"What do you understand by 'the Spanish main?'" Such was the problem propounded at the club lunch table, and many and varied were the answers. In the "Wreck of the Hesperus" it was remembered that there spake up "an old sailor who had sailed the Spanish main," and it was recalled that in the "Ingolsby Legends" one says, "My father dear he is not here; he seeks the Spanish main." There was, however, a certain vagueness about the speakers' views as to what particular thing was meant by the word, some thinking one thing and some thinking another, and only one speaking with the authority of "an old sailor who had sailed the Spanish main." Such a discussion tends to show how satisfied most of us are to half know a thing or to think that we know without troubling about verification.—London Chronicle.

NEWSY ITEMS FROM WILLITS

Willits, Nov. 13.—The election has been over for a week and still some of the people are sore. The crying of some is extremely humorous. Those who drank the most booze, made a booze fight, and tried to purchase voters are crying the loudest. When they get beat at their own game they should shut up like good dogs. The truth of the matter is that the Republican corporations spent money freely to defeat certain Democratic candidates, and five dollar gold pieces floated around freely in the senatorial fight. The results show this conclusively.

Philo Tuck, an old pioneer of this section, died at his home across the valley at the age of 88 years. He was a native of Missouri, but emigrated to California in early days and located in Napa county. He settled in this valley on the home ranch 26 years ago and lived there continuously till his death. He was a good citizen and did much to develop the country. He leaves a son, Charles, who resides on the ranch. The interment took place Monday and was largely attended by the citizens, and especially the old pioneers.

The new wing of the Methodist parsonage is about completed, which adds much to the improvements of that part of town.

D. L. Cox, while riding to town last Tuesday to cast his good Democratic ballot, was thrown from his horse and received quite a wound on the back of his head.

W. J. Mitchell and daughter have taken their departure for southern California where they will reside this winter. He was an employe in P. P. McPeak's blacksmith shop.

Mrs. P. P. McPeak has returned from a visit to relatives at the county seat.

Elmer Carner and Miss Taylor were married at the home of the bride's parents in this city last Sunday. They departed on the train for the city to spend their honeymoon.

POINT ARENA AND VICINITY

Point Arena, Nov. 12.—The election being over the people are now turning their thoughts to other things. The general result in this county is quite satisfactory from a Democratic standpoint, as the county is fully 400 Republican. Half of the offices and the retention of the board of supervisors is not so bad in a Republican county.

There were some surprises, however, but the people expect those things. It is the unexpected that happens. The Record seems to find lots of consolation in the fact that J. B. Sanford lost this county for senator. In view of the fact that he was running againt the President's brother-in-law and made no canvass in this county the result seems to be quite complimentary to Mr. Sanford. The county is about 400 or 500 Republican and Mr. Sanford loses it by less than a hundred, while it went over 1400 for Hammond's brother-in-law, Roosevelt, two years ago. Of course we people here know the little editor of the Record and know his petty jealousies and unfairness. When he ran for office he ran behind his party ticket several hundred votes both times and is jealous because Sanford is running comparatively ahead of his party ticket by fully 300 votes. The people here also know that the sack was pretty well distributed by a certain Ukiah politician who made a flying trip throughout the county. The sack was used in the legislative and other fights. The big majority given Bob Duncan is certainy a stinging rebuke to the methods of Hanen.

Mrs. E. P. Gillmore, wife of Supervisor-elect Gillmore, died on the morning of the 5th inst. She had been in poor health for some time, but erysiplas and blood poisoning were the immediate cause of death. Mrs. Gillmore was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Cain and was highly esteemed by a wide circle of friends. She leaves a husband and three children to mourn her departure. The funeral was largely attended.

C. D. Robinson, of Gualala, died on November 6th at the age of 84 years. He was the proprietor of the Gualala hotel for half a century. He was one of the old pioneers of the state, arriving in Cailfornia in 1847. The funeral was attended by many old coasters.

Bapta Rabini was found dead on the Smith place near Bourn's landing last week. He wandered away, fell in a fit and expired. He was 36 years old and leaves a widow and two children.

NORTHERN MENDOCINO

Covelo, Nov. 12.—Well, the people are very glad that the election is over up this way and it will be only a few days until it is all a thing of the past and enmities and heartburnings will be forgotten.

Generally speaking the result is satisfactory to the people in this section of the county. We are pleased to note the large vote cast for Guy Redwine in these two precincts. He got 236 votes to his opponent's 38, giving him a majority of 198. Bob Duncan came next with 225 to his opponent's 42, rolling up a majority of 183. Joe Rea carried the valley by by 61 and Van Dyke by 59, and Donohoe by 74. Theodore Bell had 37 majority. McKinlay 18 and Sanford 36. This valley is now about even politically.

The most surprising thing to the push was the defeat of Fairbanks in this valley by 18 votes. The days of the booze fighter in politics is over. The people want intelligent, sober, business men in office.

Jim Edsall has returned to Ukiah after a visit here of a few days.

The Williams valley school has closed for the term and the teacher, Miss Terry, has gone to Ukiah for the winter vacation. The school was a success.

The flour mill has shut down after a short run this season. The output was not up to the amount last year.

Rev. Knox Boude has been here holding revival services for the past week and is meeting with success.

Bill Ornbaun is the boss of the Hop & Barley ranch now and seems to be the right man for the place.

J. S. Rohrbough, wife and child went to Ukiah this week on a visit and will probably go on to the city before returning.

NORTH COAST NEWS NOTES

Fort Bragg, Nov. 14.—Everything has now quieted down since the election and the people are at work as usual. All have accepted the result even if there were disappointments. Some one must lose, so let it go at that.

C. W. Mathews, George Golden, and W. F. Fuller went down to Mendocino last Saturday evening and took the Royal Arch degree in the chapter. They were accompanied by Messrs. Cavanugh, Nelson and Gregory. All report a pleasant time.

Fred Roberts and Mrs. Woodruff have returned from Nome where they have been for some time. They expect to return in the spring.

A prize fight has been scheduled to take place here on Christmas eve. The combatants are Jack Kale of Eureka and Benny Hart of Sacramento. Both are said to be game men and a good mill is expected.

Harry Mulson is thinking of going out of the hotel business and is offering the property for sale.

The local council of the Degree of Pocohontas went down to Mendocino last week and instituted a splendid council of the order there. Some thirty of the local members went down to help the affair along.

Ed Cavanagh came down from Hardy creek last week and has taken the position of donkey boss in the woods here. Ed is the right man for the right place.

Petroleum.

The first mention of petroleum in America was made by Father De la Roche d'Allien, a Franciscan, in 1629. It may be a surprise to many people to know that both the product itself and the names petrol and petroleum were familiar at least as far back as the middle of the fourteenth century. In the Sloane manuscript (fifteenth century) mention is made both of rock oil and of the correct derivation of the name, which is mediaeval Latin and of course has nothing to do with Peter: "Petroleum, oleum est factum de petra. G(allice), petroille." ("Petroleum is an oil made from rock—in French, petroille.") The property of drawing fire had struck the imagination long before the work quoted in "Nature" was published. In 1596 Lodge used it in a metaphor: "As the clay petrol draweth fire, so the looks do gather affection." The word petrol (or petreol) disappeared from English and did not return until the days of the motor car industry, when it was reintroduced from the French in the sense of refined petroleum.

An Air Brush.

Dottie was asked, "What is a fan."

After a moment's thought Dot replied, "A fan is a thing to brush warm air away with."

But human bodies are sic fools, for a' their colleges and schools, that when nae real ills perplex them they make enow themselves to vex them.—Burns.

MIDDLE COAST HAPPENINGS

Mendocino, Nov. 12.—Our people are now taking things easy that the election is over. The splendid vote given Bell here is a tribute to the worth of the man. The coast, considering everything adverse over here, did well for the ticket. Capturing half of the ticket is not so bad in a strong Republican county. The Democracy surely have cause for congratulation. J. F. Murray was elected justice of the peace and Ves Nolan constable. The sand bag and the sack were used over here quite extensively, the sack being brought around by a certain Ukiah politician who thinks he can club or sack voters into his way of thinking. A number of Democrats felt the effect of the sack. This fellow will run up against the real thing some day.

Fred Halasane, an Italian, had the misfortune to shoot himself in the arm last week while taking a shot gun out of a wagon. The gun was discharged, the shot lodging in the arm. The unfortunate man was injured at Burke's camp and was brought here to the hospital for treatment.

C. A. Norberry has accepted a position with the Hardy creek mill and will soon have things humming there by the introduction of a band saw that will increase the capacity of the mill to 50,000 feet per day.

The gale of last week blew quite hard and rain fell to the amount of 2.35 inches.

The big fly wheel for the Mendocino mill arrived last week. It weighs 15 tons and came in two pieces and will soon be installed.

H. McKenzie, who has charge of the repairs on the Gualala bridge, says the work will soon be completed. The damage was caused by the earthquake which dropped the structure over 40 feet.

Carl Raudio has been put under bonds of $500 to keep the peace for six months. The defendant had threatened John Ferria's life for building a bridge on land alleged to belong to defendant.

Pat O'Neil, a well known coast character, died at Wendling last week from the effects of alcoholism. He has been in the hospital here awhile before going to Wendling.

FROM ELK AND VICINITY

Elk, Nov. 13.—The election is over and we are glad of it. The big sack that was brought over from Ukiah was too much for us and this place went Republican pretty strong. The population has changed here in the last few years and there are few Americans here, hence the large Republican vote. The people along the coast will remember the gratitude (?) of one candidate, who because he had a cinch himself, threw down his best friends. Donohoe, Joyce and Sanford suffered by it. It is stated that he wanted to "make good" to Hammond, and in order to get votes made the argument that Sanford would win anyway. And this after the Dispatch had endorsed this man's candidacy.

During the week a number of steamers have loaded here, taking cargo of about 850,000 feet of lumber.

J. H. Shibley, foreman of the company's ranch, has returned from a trip to old Missouri and has to be shown every now and then.

M. A. Gilkison has resigned his position as head bookkeeper for the company and will leave for Seattle the first of January where he will go into partnership with Frank Hall and Wm. Anger in the machine shop business.

Mrs. J. G. McClelland is visiting over at Willits and Ukiah for a few weeks, but is expected home shortly as Jim is getting lonesome.

Doc Dougherty left the first of the week on a trip to the city on business. He went by the way of Ukiah and will visit there a few days on his return.

A Remarkable Epitaph.

A remarkable epitaph is on a tombstone in Brighton churchyard in England. It reads: "In memory of Phoebe Hessel, who was born at Stepney in the year 1713. She served for many years as a private soldier in the Fifth regiment of foot in different parts of Europe, and in the year 1745 fought under the command of the Duke of Cumberland at the battle of Fontenoy, where she received a bayonet wound in her arm. Her long life, which commenced in the time of Queen Anne, extended to the reign of George IV., by whose munificence she received comfort and support in her latter years. She died at Brighton, where she had long resided, Dec. 12, 1821, aged 108 years."

THE BOOMERANG.

One of the Most Peculiar Weapons of War Ever Invented.

The boomerang is an instrument used both in war and in the chase by the aborigines of Australia. It is usually about two feet in length, made of hard wood bent into a curve resembling an obtuse angle, flat on one side and rounded on the other. The method of using this curious weapon is very peculiar. The thrower takes it in one hand, holding the bent side downward, and hurls it forward as if to hit some object twenty or twenty-five yards in advance. Instead of continuing to go directly forward in accordance with the Newtonian law it slowly ascends in the air, whirling round and round, describing a beautiful and geometrical curved line till it reaches a considerable height, when it begins to retrograde, finally sweeping over the head of the projector, striking the object for which it was intended, which is always in the rear.

An English officer has this to say of the singular weapon: "The boomerang is one of the most curious weapons of war ever invented, at least by a barbarous people, nor is it easy to comprehend by what law of projectiles it is made to take the singular directions that it frequently does. I have seen a native throw one so as to make it go forty or fifty yards horizontally and not more than four feet from the ground. It would then suddenly dart into the air to the height of fifty or sixty yards, describe a very considerable curve and finally fall at his feet. In all cases, no matter how thrown, the boomerang keeps turning with great rapidity, like as if on a pivot, making a loud, whizzing noise all the while."

HIGHLAND CROFTERS.

How They Lived in the Middle of the Last Century.

In the middle of the last century the crofters in the west highlands seldom saw money and never needed it. They erected for themselves huts mostly built of turf, floored with clay and roofed with heather. They kept a few cattle, goats and sheep, which grazed at will on the open hillside and provided them with milk and wool. They lived a truly simple life, and their needs were few. They grew oats for their own food and potatoes, which formed their other chief article of diet. Tea was an unknown luxury. It was by no means uncommon to find persons who had never tasted it. Wheaten bread had never been seen in those parts. Their clothes were made from the fleeces of their own sheep, spun and woven by the good wives during the long winter nights and dyed from the simple dyes made from the lichens which grew on the stems of trees or on the bowlders of rock in the neighborhood. The whisky they drank came from secret stills on the hillside and had never paid excise. The nearest parish church was often many miles away. No school was there for the children. Very few of them, indeed, could read or write. Still fewer had ever heard a word of English spoken. Their spiritual needs, however, were not neglected, for they received constant visits from the "men," as they were called, who had constituted themselves the spiritual guides of their neighborhood —Blackwood's Magazine.

Old Time Floggings.

An act of the time of Queen Elizabeth ordained that vagrants were to be "stripped from the middle upward and whipped till the body is bloody." Fourpence each was the recognized charge made by the "whipman" for every male and female vagrant who passed through his hands, but on special occasions this sum was exceeded. Says the constable's account of Great Staughton, Huntingdonshire: "May, 1691.—Paid in charges taking up a distracted woman, watching her and whipping her next day, 8 shillings 6 pence." After whipping people according to the statute the authorities sometimes gave them a letter recommending constables and others "to be as charitable as the law permits."

The Mind's Eye.

It will probably be news to most people to hear that rudimentary traces of a third eye exist among all vertebrates, including man. In the human race the third eye forms part of the pineal gland, a small mass about the size of a pea in almost the very center of the brain. Possibly, therefore, there was more actual truth in the well known expression "the mind's eye" than its originator dreamed of.

A Disperser.

A street preacher in a west of Scotland town complained to a passing policeman about being annoyed by a part of the audience and asked him to remove the obnoxious ones. "Weel, ye see," replied the cautious officer, "it would be a hard job for me tae spot them, but I'll tell ye what I'd dae if I were you." "What would you do?" eagerly inquired the preacher. "Just ga round wi' the hat!"

Finance.

Many words of most august sound prove to be of quite commonplace ancestry when traced to their origin. "Finance" is really only "settling up." Literally, it is just "ending" and was formerly used in that very simple sense in the English language. Then it came to signify settling up with a creditor and acquired the special sense of ransom.

Very Deep.

Flatter—Your boy, I hear, is a deep student. Popley—He's always at the bottom of his class, if that's what you mean.

Grumbling.

Grumbling is a potent cause of ill health. It keeps the sensitive nerves constantly vibrating with discordant emotions and not only hurts the grumbler, but every one who hears it. It really prepares the system of the grumbler for an attack of any malady that happens to be prevalent.

Slight Mistake.

"Waiter, what does this mean? Twenty-five francs for two hard boiled eggs?"

"Very sorry, sir. Slight mistake, sir I've given you the bill intended for the American at the next table."—Pele Mele.

THE ELOQUENT NUDGE.

An Incident Illustrating a Trait In Woman's Nature.

"Do you see the woman walking in front of us there?" asked the man with the fashionable tie to the friend who was strolling up Broadway with him. "Do you notice anything particularly striking about her? Nothing, except that she is very well dressed? That's what I would say. Now, I'll bet you half a dollar that when she passes the three women walking just ahead of her all three will nudge each other simultaneously."

The woman behind was walking faster than the three in front and she soon passed them. The three women looked her over from foot to head, then nudged each other with their elbows as if possessed with the same thought.

"How did you know it?" inquired the friend as the other pocketed the half dollar.

"I didn't know it," was the reply. "If I had it would have been taking an unfair advantage of you to bet. But I was reasonably certain of it. There is a certain indescribable something in some women's manner, appearance and carriage that causes all other women to nudge each other at sight of her. I couldn't tell you just what it is, but I'm ready to put up a wager on it every time. The nudge is simply a part of women's sign language which means something that cannot be put into words, but which every other woman understands."—New York Press.

The Word "Crank."

Crank in the sense of an eccentric person is a new word. The very first written instance of crank in the modern sense that could be found for Dr. Murray's dictionary was in the reports of the trial of Guiteau, President Garfield's murderer. Guiteau's reference to somebody as a crank gave the word a vogue that has gone on spreading. But the adjective cranky was known in 1787 as meaning sickly (the German "krank"), and to Dickens in the senses of cross and crochety. In all its meanings it springs from the root idea of crookedness, as does crank in its sixteenth century sense of a deceitful trick, as in "quips and cranks."

The History of Tacitus.

The entire history of Tacitus, as we have the work, was regained from a single copy found in the fifteenth century in a monastery of Westphalia. That we should owe the works of this author to one copy is a remarkable circumstance, for the Emperor Tacitus, who claimed to be a descendant of the historian, had copies of the history placed in every library of the empire and each year had ten copies transcribed for presentation to scholars. All, it seems, perished, save the Westphalian copy.

The Great Difficulty.

"One-half of the world's happiness is solved when a person learns to mind his own business."

"Yes, but it's the other half that causes the most trouble."

"What's that?"

"Getting other people to mind theirs." —Home Notes.

MRS. SLINGERLAND PASSES TO REST

Mrs. Anna Lamb Slingerland, one of the pioneer ladies of Potter valley, died at her home in that valley last Saturday, November 10, at the ripe old age of 74 years, after a lingering illness of several months' duration. A strange coincidence of the death was that of her husband died at the same place on the same date just seven years ago.

The funeral took place last Sunday from the home and was largely attended by kind and sympathetic friends who had known her for so many years. In her life time Mrs. Slingerland had done much to relieve the suffering and assuage the sorrow of those in distress, and many kind friends remembering these acts of kindness attested their friendship by numerous floral offerings that completely covered the grave. The services were conducted by the Rev. Shillinger and were simple and impressive, comporting with her life.

Mrs. Slingerland leaves four brothers, Henry, George, Theodore, Alex and Russel, the latter two being with her at the time of her death. Besides these she leaves a number of nephews and neices. One neice is Miss Geneva Lamb whom the deceased raised from childhood.

Mrs. Anna Lamb Slingerland was born in Parkman, Ohio, in 1832 and was raised and educated there. In 1858 she came to California by way of New York and Panama and lived in the mining disticts and taught school until 1860, when she married Henry Slingerland, who was then a merchant at Placerville, El Dorado county. For some years they made that place their home and then moved to Virginia City, Nevada, and from there they went to San Francisco. From the last named place they came to Potter valley 37 years ago, and where they remained the rest of their days. They were highly esteemed and the recent death of Mrs. Slingerland is generally regretted.

On Tuesday evening of next week an entertainment of unusual merit will be given in this city. Miss F. Hazel Bowden, the dramatic student from Los Angeles, who has been giving recitals at Healdsburg, Santa Rosa, Petaluma and other places aloung this route, will appear at the Ukiah opera house. Wherever this young lady has appeared the press have spoken in the highest terms of her work. Her readings consist of pathos and tradegy, as well as some very laughable sketches. Miss Bowden will be assisted by some of Ukiah's best musical talent, and the concert will be one of high order.

He Ran for Office

"No, I'm not a fugitive from justice, and the sight of a poilceman does not give me a chill," said the ready and honest looking man on the rear platform of a street car. "I am headed for the country to hide myself for a month, but there is no crime connected with it. I simply ran for office."

"I see," replied the other.

"Yes, I ran. They wanted me for sheriff of the county. They came to me by the dozen to say that I was honest and would make a good man for the place and that the opposition couldn't say a word against me. When they made me believe that it was my duty, I accepted the nomination."

"And your majority was—?"

"Nit, I am supposed to be snowed under about ten feet deep."

"But how did it happen?"

"Oh, easy enough. The opposition that couldn't say a word against me announced:

"That I stole sheep.

"That I embezzled money.

"That I was down on education.

"That I once robbed a widder.

"That I burned a barn to get the insurance.

"That I was a turncoat in politics and a liar in business.

"That I once crippled a man in Maine and murdered one in California. All this and more was urged against me, and I was wipped off the face of the earth, as it were, and, as I said, I am retiring to the country to think things over and get a fresh introduction to myself. After fifteen or twenty days I shall perhaps have the nerve to come back and face my family grocer, who has been giving me fourteen ounces for a pound the last two years, but cut me dead before the campaign had fairly started.—Joe Kerr in New Orleans Picayune.

HAPPENINGS IN POTTER

Potter valley, Nov. 13.—Mrs. Anna Slingerland passed away last Saturday morning at the residence of her brother, after a long and painful illness. Several months ago she suffered a stroke of paralysis and since that time has been gradually failing until death came as a glad release. Mrs. Slingerland was one of the oldest residents of the valley, and her kindly disposition and nobility of character made everyone her friend. The funeral took place from her late home Sunday afternoon and the large concourse of friends who attended and followed her remains to their last resting place, were evidence of the estimation in which she was held. The bereaved relatives have the sympathy of the community in their loss.

Mrs. Vaughn Frazier had the misfortune to have her arm broken in a runaway accident last week. While riding with her husband and little son the harness broke on a grade, the team became unmanageable and all were thrown out. Mr. Frazier and child escaped without injury.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Pickle, Sr., are visiting relatives in Santa Rosa.

Mrs. Donohoe and daughter, of Ukiah, have been visiting Dr. Chittenden and wife during the past week.

Mr. Mustard left Monday morning for a visit to his old home in Indiana. He was accompanied to San Francisco by his neice, Mrs. John Gibson.

There is some talk of a skating rink in town. We would like to see one opened as skating is one of the best of winter amusements.

E. E. Holbrook and family are moving to Ukiah preparatory to his entering upon the duties in the county recorder's office. While our people regret to see them leave, yet we are pleased and proud that a resident of our vallley has been selected to fill one of the most important offices of our county. The best wishes of their many friends go with them.

Wireless Telegraphy

The Pacific Wireless Telegraph system has past the experimental stage and is now a commercial reality. From their numerous stations they are doing a regular uninterrupted commercial business. This company brought their system to perfection with their own capital, not taking the stockholders money to experiment with. While other systems are being used by the U. S. government expermentaly, this company is receiving regular pay for the large amount of government business handled, and all the stations used by the government.

As the Bell Telephone, Westinghouse Brake, Welsbach Light, Edison Electric Light, and other public necessities made their stockholders rich—first by the patenting of the only priniciple which would successfully work, thereby protecting them from infringement and imitations—this company has patented the only principle which will make wireless telegraphy a commercial success. This is proven by the uninterrupted success they have been having for the past four years. Second the public was allowed to purchase the controling interest in the stock of the companies. Thus becoming owners, workers for the company's success. This company proposes to operate on the same lines. In no case has it been known where a stockholder, no matter how small an amount of shares they held, was ever frozen out, but many small holders of public utility stocks have been made rich. Seventy-four per cent of the owners of Bell Telephone stock were people who had less than $500 worth of stock.

C. R. B. McGown has opened an office at C. H. Kent's store where he will take pleasure in telling you all about this company's business.

It all depends on the price you pay, your own ideas, and the tailors who do the work.

A Horse and a Cow.

When in my teens, milking seven cows morning and evening and toiling on the farm all day, I made favorites of a bay mare and a Durham cow—Molly and Bess. Talk about your physical sympathy! Why, it was pathetic. Molly was my saddle horse, a single footer of rare excellence. I could ride her with one finger on the reins into the most forbidding places. Old Bess—oh, she used to kick a tooth out once in awhile and put her foot in the pail of milk, but the dear girl would follow me about with the affection of a child! Well, I was absent from the old home five years and returning found that of all the animals only Molly and Bess remained. Imagine my distress when Molly refused to notice me at all! While wondering at this loss of friendship I felt a warm, rasplike thing going over my hand, which was behind my back. Turning, I saw dear old Bess. Without notice she had come to lick me. If ever animal spoke with eyes and manner she did. Her happiness at seeing me again after so long a period was apparent to all observers, and during my brief stay at home it was all I could do to keep her from following me into the house. —New York Press.

Be "Breakbend" Trip.

One of the most famous of American shipping lines in the palmy days of our marine was the Cope line, which ran between Philadelphia and Liverpool, says the author of "Memoirs of Charles H. Cramp." By this line John Randolph of Roanoke determined to go to Russia when he had been appointed minister to that country by President Jackson. Entering the office of the company in Philadelphia, he said to a clerk in his usual grandiloquent manner:

"Sir, I wish to see Thomas P. Cope."

He was shown to Mr. Cope's office.

"I am John Randolph of Roanoke," he said. "I wish to take passage to Liverpool in one of your ships."

If he expected to be tendered a pass he was grievously disappointed.

"I am Thomas Cope," replied the head of the line. "If thee goes aboard the ship and selects thy stateroom and will pay $150 thee may go."

A Timely Shake.

Some years ago the Duke of Connaught visited Japan and was taken by Sir Edwin Arnold round the bazars of Tokyo, where he bought many curious toys and specimens of Japanese art. In the evening he remarked to Sir Edwin that he had seen most of the sights, but had not experienced any of the earthquakes which are so common in Japan.

"I suppose you cannot show me one?" said the duke jestingly.

Immediately the house shook, the chandelier swayed backward and forward, the china and glass on the table rattled, and the door burst open.

"Why, Sir Edwin, you are a magician!" remarked the duke as the shock, which had happened at so curious a moment, subsided.

A HOPELESS SITUATION.

Odd Climax That Was Not a Part of the Play.

Frank Gillmore, the actor, tells the following story about his aunt, Miss Sarah Thorne, who was leading woman at the Theatre Royal, Dublin, many years ago.

"Miss Thorne was given a part in 'The Masked Prince,' the second piece of the evening," said Mr. Gillmore. "Glancing through her part hastily at breakfast, she noticed that there was one scene in which she had so little to say that it could be learned just before going on. She decided to skip that scene and get to the longer passages.

"When night came, and my aunt made her appearance, she did very well in the first scene. In the second scene occurred the passages she had skipped in the morning. She rushed to the corner in which she left her book, but it was not there. Finally, the stage manager, receiving no response to his repeated calls, sought her out and pushed her on the stage. There she was, before a large audience, without the slightest idea of what she was supposed to do or say. The scene was a courtroom. At a high desk sat the presiding judge, letter perfect in his part, because he had it ready to read from the papers in front of him. A trial was taking place, and Miss Thorne, to her horror, discovered that she was to be the principal witness, on whose answers hung the entire plot of the play. The judge adjusted his spectacles, looked at his part, and said in solemn tones, 'The witness will now state what she saw the prisoner do on this particular night.'

"What was she to answer? She glanced around helplessly. She hadn't the faintest idea what she had seen the prisoner do on that particular night. The critical moment had arrived; some one must speak, but she couldn't. Her eye alighted on one of the characters in the play who looked particularly reliable. He looked like a person who could get one out of any sort of difficulty. So, pointing at him, she exclaimed in impressive tones, 'Ask that man!'

"The entire cast seemed disconcerted by this remark. They did not know precisely what ought to be said, but instinct told them something was wrong. The judge, thinking he might have made some mistake, turned over a couple of pages of manuscript and, having convinced himself on this point, again addressed the witness. My aunt glanced at the uncomfortable gentleman and, no other idea coming to her, again exclaimed, 'Ask that man!' This concentration of public attention was too much for him, and he sneaked off the stage with a feeble 'Excuse me.' Of course the situation was a hopeless one, and the curtain had to be rung down."—Success.

Considerate.

Mrs. Dove—Henry, I think you are positively cruel. Here I've tried so hard to cook you a nice dinner and you haven't had a word to say to me about it. Mr. Dove—Darling, I love you too much for that. If I said what I thought you'd never speak to me again.

TO KEEP YOUNG.

Be Active, Seek Variety and Don't Be Afraid to Laugh.

Never retire from active life if you can possibly avoid it; keep "in the swim;" keep the mind active; never refer to your advancing years or say "at my age."

To preserve youth you must have a variety of experience. The country woman at forty, although breathing a purer air and living on a more healthful diet than the city woman, often looks fifty, while the latter at the same age does not look more than thirty. But her mind is more active than that of her country sister; that is the secret of her more youthful appearance.

Nothing else ages one more rapidly than monotony—a dead level existence without change of scene or experience. The mind must be kept fresh or it will age, and the body cannot be younger than the mind.

Few minds are strong enough to overcome the aging influence of the monotonous life which rules in the average country home. City people have infinitely greater variety of life. They enjoy themselves a great deal more than country people. They work hard when at work, but when they are through they drop everything and have a good time. There is no doubt that the theater, in spite of its many evils, has done a great deal toward erasing the marks of age. People who laugh much retain their youth longer.—Success.

Overreached.

Old Joe, a farmer, was noted for the many ways he had of skimping and saving. One day he hired a big country boy to help him with his work. The boy reported for duty at 5:30 o'clock in the morning, and Old Joe sat him down to breakfast. After the lad had finished the meal the sharp old farmer said, "What do you say if we eat dinner while we are at it?" As the boy agreed, they fell to and ate a little more. Then, seeing that the youngster could eat no more, Old Joe suggested, "Suppose we finish up and eat supper too." "All right," assented the lad, and he managed to swallow another crust of bread. "Now let's get to work," shouted the gleeful farmer, thinking of the saving in meals he had made. "No," returned the boy, "I never work after supper. A man's time is his own then."—London Times.

The Forgetful Sawyer.

A colored preacher took some candidates for immersion down to a river in Louisiana. Seeing some alligators in the stream, one of them objected.

"Why, brother," urged the pastor, "can't you trust the Lord? He took care of Jonah, didn't he?"

"Y-a-a-s," admitted the darky, "but a whale's diff'rent. A whale's got a mem'ry, but ef one o' dem 'gators wuz ter swaller dis nigger, he'd jes' go ter sleep dar in de sun an' fergit all 'bout me."—Woman's Home Companion.

A Sly Poke.

Nell—When I met May today I had my new gown on. Of course I expected her to say something about it, but she pretended not to have seen it. Belle—Yes, she's an awfully considerate and tender hearted girl.—Philadelphia Ledger.

A Universal Rule.

A good thing in one town sometimes fails to work in another town. Absolute knowledge seems to be rare, except that it always pays to be illustrious, fair and decent.—Atchison Globe.

Cheerfulness bears the same friendly regard to the mind as to the body. It banishes all anxious care and discontent, soothes and composes the passions and keeps them in a perpetual calm.

The Hesitant Swain.

He—What would your father do if I told him I wanted to marry you? She—He'd refer the matter to me. He (hopefully)—And what would you do? She—I'd refer the matter to the young man who proposed to me and was accepted while you were trying to make up your mind.—Bohemian Magazine.

UKIAH, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1906.

Effect of Mr. Langdon's Candidacy

In viewing the returns there can be no longer any doubt in the minds of the people of this state that the gubernatorial candidacy of District Attorney Langdon has accomplished just what it was designed to accomplish, says the Grass Valley Union. He drew enough votes from Bell to cause his defeat. His candidacy was particularly strong in Alameda and San Francisco counties, where the influence of the Examiner is strongest. Mr. Langdon stood upon an alleged platform incorporating all that could be wished for by the people, but little of which was practicable of accomplishment. But in reality his platform was the ambitions and desires of Mr. Hearst.

The latter has been for years trying to make the Democratic party a Hearst party—an organization that would bow to his dictates and be solid in futhering his ambitions. The majority of the rank and file of the party have repeatedly revolted from his attempt at control. He has had consider able influence with a minority of the party and has tried to use that minority as a force to effect a compromise with the real leaders of the party through whom he would be always supported in his candidacy for various offices. The entire party finally revolted at the Sacramento convention and as a result the candidacy of Mr. Langdon was actively supported by the Hearst papers. Mr. Langdon did not stand for as much to labor as did Mr. Bell; the rights of labor was a secondary consideration to the prestige which Mr. Hearst hoped to win. Mr. Langdon did not stand for as much to the people of the state as did Mr. Bell, for he did not represent a party that was making a fight for the control of the legislature. Therefore, if Mr. Langdon had been elected he would have stood for the accomplishment of nothing at all for the people.

On the contrary, if the labor and vote of the common people, given to Mr. Langdon, had been cast for Theodore Bell, the latter as the representative of one of the old parties and one of the only two parties having an opportunity to accomplish anything, would have shown the corporate influences and the bosses that their high-handed conduct of political affairs in this state would no longer be endured. His election would have meant that the Democratic party is strong enough in this state to defeat the Republican party when boss rule becomes so distasteful and corruption so rank that the better element of Republicans are driven to vote the Democratic ticket. The menace to the power would have at least caused the machine manipulators of the Republican party to have more regard for the rights of the people.

The election of Mr. Langdon would have been injudicious for the people of San Francisco. His election as governor would have meant that Ruef would have been appointed district attorney in San Francisco, and that the investigation of graft would have been stopped. Thus it appears that the candidacy of Mr. Langdon was in direct opposition to the welfare of the constituents he represents in San Francisco, and the cause of the defeating of the will of the people in their attempt to rebuke political bosses and corporate influences. And as long as the citizens allow themselves to be deluded into dividing their strength the same results will accrue.

Work For Our Mutual Advancement

Now that the election is over it is well that the people turn their attention to the advancement of the community in which they live. There is no doubt that the affairs of state will be handled as well as in the past and if it happens that those affairs are handled not so well, the people will have to wait until the next election to remedy the matter. But they do not have to wait at all to commence the work of improvement and of development of resources. There is plenty of capital just now awaiting investment according to the financial journals and here in Mendocino county there are many ways in which it can be invested with profit.

It is up to the citizens of this section to present those ways for investment to the outside world and to invite moneyed men to look over the advantages and resources of the county. If just one-half the energy that was spent on the campaign is now directed toward the betterment of the business and industial conditions of the county, then there need be no apprehension concerning the future prosperity of the county.

Theodore A. Bell Undaunted

Theodore A. Bell, the defeated candidate for governor, has prepared the following statement:

Napa, Nov. 8.—To the People of the State of California: Defeat has no terrors for me. I accept the result freely and uncomplainingly. The issues were clear and distinct and we must bow to the decision of the people. Had I fought simply to realize a personal ambition, I would naturally feel disappointed; but I take a larger view of public office. I regard it as only conferring greater power to accomplish good. And for that reason it is not difficult for me to direct my thoughts and ambitions into channels leading to the same results.

I can truthfully say that mere office holding, aside from opportunities to advance the common weal, has no attraction for me. My friends will therefore understand how easily I reconcile myself to the situation. No man has ever been more faithfullly supported, and I shall never forget my friends. My words of thanks are too few to express my great appreciation. I want my friends to feel that I am just as grateful in defeat as I would have been in victory.

As a private citizen I shall continue to labor for my native state, and contribute toward its advancement and devlopment along all lines.

THEODORE BELL.

Mr. Bell sent the following telegrams:

Napa, Nov. 8.—To the Sacramento Evening Bee: I return special thanks for its magnificent work in my behalf. The results express better than words what it has done for me. May its power in political affairs continue to increase. THEODORE BELL.

Napa, Nov. 8.—Charles E. Hughes, New York: Accept my sincere congratulations. I rejoice in your magnificent victory. THEODORE BELL.

Our esteemed contemporary, the Republican Press, with extraordinary astuteness, has discerned that the cause of Senator Sanford not carrying Mendocino county with his usual majority was the Dispatch-Democrat's fight against Mr. McCowen, the Republican nominee for county clerk, and he forsees further disaster to Mr. Sanford on that account. If political death really awaits Mr. Sanford because his paper was in favor of its party candidate instead of McCowen, what must be in store for the editor of the Press? Throughout the entire campaign the Press studiously avoided mentioning Mr. McCowen's name, and in addition, if current report is credited, the editor of the Press spent his time and influence working for McCowen's opponent, although the Press presumes to be the Republican organ. Politicans attribute McCowen's large vote to the opposition of the disgruntled Press gang.

The editor of Hard Times seems to see the political undoing of Senator Sanford in the vote at the recent election, because he did not carry this county, and the rest of the district by overwhelming majority. Bell ran over 50,000 votes ahead of his party ticket in the state and about 1800 ahead in this senatorial district. The fourth district went Democratic by less than 100 votes, and Senator Sanford carried the district by 853. Mr. Sanford received the largest vote in this county of any Democrat running on the state or district ticket, and yet "Pin Head" Rhodes thinks, and thinks, and thinks, a luxury he seldom indulges in and wonders how it happened, and figures and figures. If his paper holds out, and he doesn't have to borrow any from the Dispatch office, he may figure it out that Mr. Sanford didn't get any vote at all.

Hard Times made its hardest fight against Duncan for district attorney. Duncan won by the biggest majority in the county, 1302, and ran 2000 votes ahead of his ticket.. This shows the influence of "Pin Head," whose head is too much like a squirrel.

HAMMOND SENDS CONGRATULATIONS

Ma Tel Vineyard,
Upper Lake, Nov. 8. 1906.

Senator J. B. Sanford, Ukiah, Cal

Dear Senator:—The exigencies of the case seem to demand that it should be I who must conrgatulate you instead of you doing it to me, as I naturally hoped would be the case, and I now proceed to do so, and I wish you a most successful term of office. I have no complaints to make, and have no regrets, for I did the best I could. I do not consider my time thrown away, for I took two very interesting trips which I never would have taken under other circumstances. Again congratulating you, I am very truly yours,

Charles Mifflin Hammond.

Ukiah, Nov., 12, 1906.

Charles Mifflin Hammond, Upper Lake Cal.

My Dear Mr. Hammond:—Your letter conveying congratulations at hand and I thank you for your kindly spirit shown. Had you been the successful one I would have been as prompt in congratulating you. Our campaign was a friendly one. Neither one of us, as far as I know, said anything to the detriment of the other, and the close of this campaign finds us friends as we were before. My campaign was a very pleasant one, save the week I was called home on account of the sickness of my little boy, and I, like you, have no regrets. As state senator I shall do my utmost to represent the people and hope to merit the confidence reposed in me. Again thanking you for the kindly expression of good will and wishing you success in life, I am, Very truly,

J. B. Sanford.

Johnny Moore Defeated

Sheriff John Moore, of Lakeport, and Jack Wilson, a former Ukiahite, were over Friday with an insane patient. On their way back Saturday they met a deputy with another patient and Mr. Moore brought the unfortunate on to Ukiah. Mr. Moore says that if they keep doubling up on him in this manner he will have to get a stock wagon to haul them in. Mr. Moore was one of the three Democrats defeated in our neighboring county. He has made a good officer but was beaten only because he was running for the third term.

TO VOTE ON MORE CITY BONDS

The town trustees have issued a call for a special election to be held Saturday, November 24th, for the purpose of submitting to the qualified electors the proposition of issuing bonds in the sum of twenty thousand dollars for the purchasing a site and building thereon a new town hall.

The present town hall, which at its best, was never adequate to the needs of the town, was so badly damaged by the earthquake that it was condemned as unsafe by a committee of experts. Since that time the trustees have leased a part of the upper floor of the Eversole building and have been holding their meetings there.

If the bond proposition carries by a two-thirds vote and the bonds sold, the Barnes lot on the west side of School street, opposite the present town hall, will be selected as the site for the new building. The trustees have secured an option on the property, deeming the present lot to be too small, and the lot now owned by the town will be sold. The Barnes lot is one hundred feet square and will be ample for the building and for lawns and gardens laid out on plans similiar to the court house grounds.

The proposed building will be fireproof and a modern, up-to-date town hall, and an ornament to the city. It will contain a fire engine room, and rooms for the firemen, public library and trustees, and offices for the various town officials. It will contain a modern steel jail, which will be a great contrast to the miserable hovel which now serves the purpose of a city prison; and will also have fireproof vaults for storing the valuable town records, and a burglar-proof safe to hold the city's money.

On account of being in doubt as to whether the proposition will carry, the trustees have not gone to the expense of procuring plans and specifications. In case two-thirds of the voters signify their approval and the bonds are issued and sold, the board will at once consummate the purchase of the lot and advertise for competitive plans and begin the erection of a building of which every citizen will be proud.

The bonds will consist of forty bonds of five hundred dollars each, one bond with interest being paid each year for forty years, and bearing interest at the rate of five per cent per annum.

CURIOUS SITUATION CONFRONTS BOARD

The board of supervisors finds itself in a curious predicament regarding the returns on the vote for tax collector. The returns from Counts precinct show 66 votes for "Mr. Dyke." With a strict interpretation of the law it is claimed these votes can not be credited to W. S. Van Dyke, the Republican nominee, but would be counted as for another candidate. A contest would undoubtedly show that he is the person entitled to the votes in question, but in the official canvass the supervisors are not permitted to look behind the returns of the election board. Without these votes Mr. Van Dyke has not a sufficient number to elect him. It is a curious situation brought about by what is very likely the election clerk's error.

Appointed Cleaning Up Day

Next Friday and Saturday, November 23 and 24, has been fixed as the time to clean up the yards and sidewalks by the ladies of Ukiah. The ladies acted in conjunction with the city trustees and all have agreed to have a "Clean Up Day" at that time. It is cretainly a good move and all property holders should join in the movement and assist to clean up the town by burning up all the old leaves and rubbish before winter sets in. Remember the date and get out in full force and clean up your premises. Wagons will be furnished by the trustees to haul off the rubbish that can be burned easily.

Stricken With Appendicitis

Miss Irene Hildreth was stricken suddenly with an attack of appendicitis last Wednesday, the 7th, but got better for a few days and then again became worse. She was taken to the city Sunday and an operation was performed at once. Reports from the city are to the effect that the patient is doing as well as could be expected, and strong hopes are entertained for her rapid recovery.

POPULAR DENTIST TAKES A BRIDE

A very dainty and pretty wedding took place at the residence of Dr. J. R. Mathews Thursday evening, November 8, when Miss Lillian Towle became the bride of Dr. J. Roberd Thomas, of this city.

The guests were assembled, and at 9 o'clock the beautiful "Bridal Song" by Lohengrin, was sung by Miss Genevieve Mathews, then followed the wedding march played by Miss Kate Thomas, and the bride made her appearance escorted by her father and accompanied by her mother and brother. The bride and groom met under a bower of green foliage and cluster of silver white bells so artistically arranged that they looked as if they were really proclaiming the joyful news of love and matrimony.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. C. Thompson. After a due amount of congratulations the guests proceeded to the wedding banquet and suffice it is to say that all did full justice thereto, with many a hearty toast and good wishes that all their life be as smooth and happy as their wedding eve. The after part of the evening was spent in pleasant entertainment consisting of songs and recitations, and all agreed that it was a rare treat to hear the groom sing sweet love songs accompanied on the piano by his bride. The "Bachelor's Soliloquy" was recited by Miss Grace Reid, and the Hawaiian love melodies sung by Ernest Mathews. The whole house was appropriately decorated with chrysanthemums, green foliage and pink and white festoons.

Very many beautiful and useful presents were received.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Towle, now of this city but formerly of Hollister, San Benito county, and sister of Harry Towle, of Salinas, grand-daughter of Mrs. Dr. S. J. Reid, and niece of Mrs. J. R. Mathews and Grace Reid of this city, and Mumm Reid of Willits.

The groom is one of Ukiah's most popular and highly respected young men. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Thomas, and brother of May, Kate, Ruth and Anderson Thomas of this city.
